SERVING THE COUNTY OF MOUNTAIN VIEW
WITH AN AUDITED CIRCULATION OF 8538

Vol. 6, No. 30

Grade 1 entry date unchanged

By Peter Crosby

A proposal to change the Grade 1 entry date from Sept. 30 to Dec. 31 was defeated when the matter went to a tie vote at last week's County of Mountain View board of education meeting.

In introducing a motion to change the date, former board chairman Dr. Edward Oke said the experiment with the Sept. 30 date "was laudable but not workable."

But Reeve and Trustee John Grimstead said he was "disappointed to see this issue back at the table," because he believed the board was of the opinion that "later was better" and that this view was supported by the board's constituency.

"I hate picking a scab on an old wound but if we have the conviction that Sept. 30 can work, it will work," said Mr. Grimstead.

The board adopted a policy in 1988 in line with a recommendation by then-superintendent Barclay Cant, to set an entrance policy requiring those entering Grade 1 to have reached their sixth birthdays on or before Sept. 30.

Dr. Cant, using a variety of studies to support his argument, was convinced that "later was better" and received the backing of the board.

However, it sparked a battle with parents because the new date excluded some children whom parents believed

Another pool idea

By Peter Crosby

A Didsbury man presented town council with a cheaper alternative to building a new leisure pool.

Tom Gunderson said he was prepared to develop a combined leisure pool/fitness centre, the start-up costs to be shared by Didsbury, Olds, Carstairs and the County of Mountain view.

Didsbury's share would be $123,750, Olds, $138,750, Carstairs, $37,500 and the County, $75,000.

Mr. Gunderson said the total cost of the facility to be built on land off Hwy. 2A near Didsbury would be about $1.5 million.

Money from each of the sources would be on a grant or refundable negotiated payment basis to be used as a downpayment for the facility.

Mr. Gunderson said he would be taking his idea to the other parties shortly.

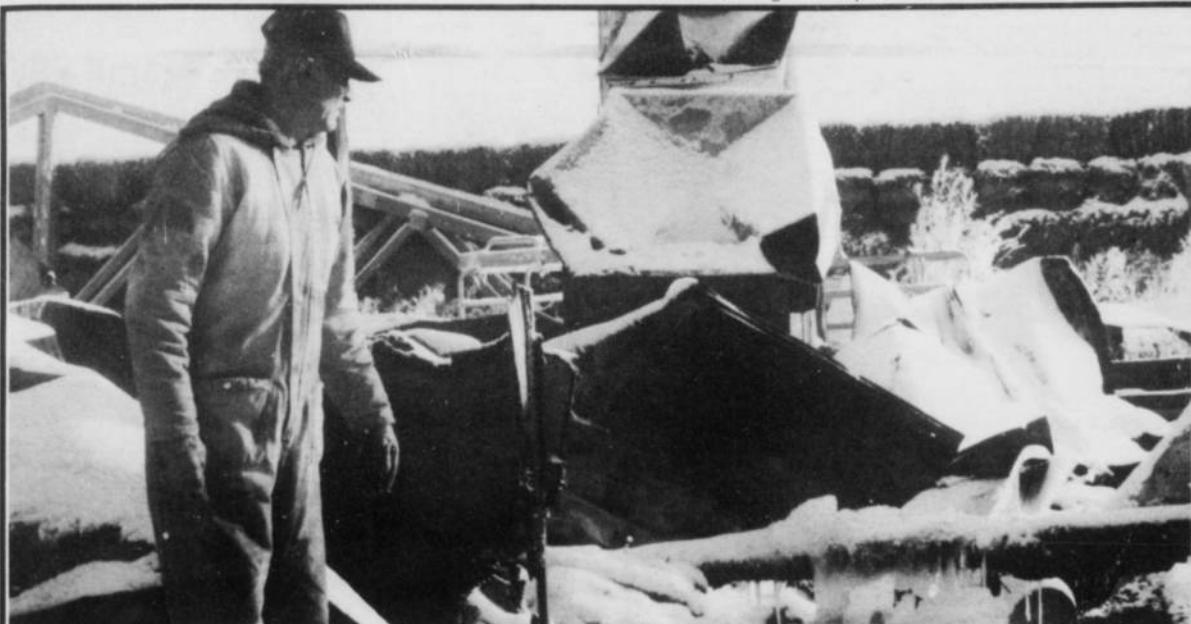

It's gutsy but interesting," said Coun. Doug Sharpe.

"All proposals have merit," observed Mayor Don Watt. "Let's see what reaction he gets from the other councils."

"We'd be foolish not to listen to more," said Coun. Al Engel.

Mr. Gunderson said he would assume the "headaches" of running the facility.

Financing would be covered by selling memberships on a yearly basis.

Burned out

East Didsbury area farmer Kelly Morton points out furnace area where a fire is believed to have started Friday destroying a barn and its occupants, 1,100 roasting chickens.

Fire levels chicken barn

—Damage pegged at over $200,000

By Peter Crosby

Fire reduced a barn containing 1,100 roasting chickens to a heap of smoking rubble at a farm east of Didsbury Friday.

Owner Kelly Morton said he had "very little insurance" on the barn which he said would cost about $200,000 to replace.

Mr. Morton had gone to Stettler to pick up a load of coal to fire the barn's furnace when the blaze broke out about 12:30 p.m. The Morton farm is located about one mile north of the Lone Pine Hall.

No one else in the Morton family was home when the fire started. A neighbor noticed the smoke and called the Didsbury fire department.

"It was gone by the time the fire department arrived," said Mr. Morton. "They didn't have any chance. It burned to the ground very quickly."

Authorities believe the fire was started by a spark from the furnace room and then fanned by a stiff southeast wind.

The loss of the chickens was estimated at about $13,000, said Mr. Morton. The chickens were ready for market and were to be replaced by 5,000 turkeys in December.

"I'm desperate to put a new barn up and I have to have it for those turkeys," said Mr. Morton. "If I don't my goose is cooked. This is my livelihood."

I am not a winter person. I hate boots and gloves and bulky coats. I miss the freedom of running out of the house whenever I feel like it and without stopping for outdoor clothes. I loathe cold cars and icy roads and scraping the windshield with frost stiffened fingers. I am definitely not a winter person.

I am however a Canadian, born and bred, loyal and true, stand on guard for thee, and as a Canadian I have to find some justification for our longest season. I can see beauty in a winter landscape. The sky is so blue on a clear winter day. Wind sculpted snow drifts are the ultimate in free form art with perfect arcs and swirling curves all in pristine purest white. The trees are so elegant in winter and our big old spruce, frosted with snow and against a blue, blue sky can take your breath away.

I like the sound of crisp snow crunching underfoot and Christmas Carols on the stereo. I like cows in their fat fury winter clothes, Christmas trees, colored lights reflected on snow, Christmas cards and kids toys and new books and mandarin oranges.

I like the birds of winter. Starting with the dear dependable chickadees who hang from the suet ball like animated toys and take turns flipping sunflower seeds from the feeder. They are so busy and so purposeful. They test each seed as they pick it up and if it doesn't meet chickadee standards they toss it away and choose another. They must eat some of the seeds but much of their take goes into caches around the yard. One day I heard a bluejay screaming and screaming and when I went to investigate I found that the Jay had discovered a chickadee hoard behind a loose board in the fence and was calling his friends to the feast. Last year at this time one of the chickadees who made a regular appearance had no tail. In flight he looked like a thrown tennis ball. As the weeks went by a tiny tail appeared. It gradually grew longer and longer and in about six weeks, he had as fine a tail as any of his buddies.

There are three Bluejays with us this fall. They are so greedy but so beautiful. They clutch the feeder's lip with big strong feet, brace themselves with their tail and scoff sunflower seeds like bums at a banquet. The Evening Grosbeaks are worse. A good big flock of Evening Grosbeaks can empty the feeder in an hour. They feed in bunches, seven or eight at a time and you can watch the seed level fall like coffee going through a grinder. But are they gorgeous. Sulpher yellow, black and white with big strong beaks, they look like something strayed in from the tropics and I don't care how much they eat just so they come. "Welfare Bums," Ralph says. But he keeps on buying seeds.

Their cousins, the Pine Grosbeaks rarely come to the feeder. We have to watch them in the apple trees and hedge. They are the same size and shape as the Evening Grosbeaks, the males are a glorious pink and the females olive, both trimmed in black and grey.

Downy Woodpeckers come to our feeder. A Downy seen up close has a sort of sparse spiky mustache and the red spot on the back of his head fairly glows. We have Nuthatches, a streamlined shape in grey and white with the ability to walk headfirst down a vertical surface. When the feeder is empty our Nuthatch customers rap sharply on the plexiglass. I don't know if it's a signal or just frustration but it usually makes us rush out and replenish the food supply.

Pine Siskins, Red Polls and Purple Finch are some of our little winter visitors and of course we love to have them. European Starlings are still here and in their fall plumage they are really something. Sort of like a really big, ugly, sparrow in a poorly fitted hounds tooth check suit.

The magpies are with us year round, not in the feeders thank goodness. Ravens croak overhead, big and ugly but with a sort of impressive dignity.

There are five Robins in our apple trees. Robins should not be here at this time of year and I am very much afraid that on one of these cold mornings the Robins will be under the trees like fallen Christmas ornaments.

Robins are not winter people either.

Kinsmen Christmas Party could solve headaches

Planning a staff Christmas party in Didsbury could be made easier this year thanks to the Didsbury Kinsmen Club.

Club secretary Rod Collinge says the Kinsmen will offer a Christmas party package that will include a first-rate supper, with suitable music throughout, 30 minutes of entertainment by comedian and impressionist Kel Kramer, dance music by a four-piece band called Stratus, and all refreshments, including the bar.

"We are very sure that we can provide an evening's entertainment that you will not soon

were prepared to enter school.

Assistant superintendent Shirley Van Eaton said the early entry date was causing problems for people moving to the county from jurisdictions where the entry policy was different.

Reinstatement of the so-called flex period where students having birthdays between Sept. 30 and Dec. 31 could be considered for school entry, wasn't working either, she said, because children were being labelled.

"We would like to start the schooling process on a more positive note," Mrs. Van Eaton said.

Mr. Grimstead said he couldn't accept the argument about the board having to please newcomers. "They are not the majority of students and we have to serve the people who have lived here for some time."

"We know there are problems either way but if we look at what's best for kids, why discard the later is better philosophy if most agree it is best."

Dr. Oke said the Sept. 30 policy had caused "real hassles between principals and parents which made kids the losers."

Other trustees voiced their opinions before the matter went to a vote.

Murray Snyder said the board shouldn't bow to political or administrative pressures to change the policy "because kids won't be the hall, arranging supper, providing refreshments and entertainment and the cleanup afterwards.

The Kinsmen Club will take care of all the necessary arrangements.

Anyone interested in the idea is asked to contact either Rod Collinge, 335-4110, or Brian Forestell, 335-2352, by Nov. 18.

The Kinsmen are also looking at the possibility of a family Christmas party for Dec. 1 at the arena but would like some input as to what businesses and their employees might like.

Students pause to remember

Remembering

Bill Jepps (above) addresses Remembrance Day service at Westglen School while Didsbury Army Cadets form honor guard in front of memorial.

By Peter Crosby

It's difficult for the younger generation to relate to war and the sacrifices made by thousands of Canadians, "but if we can't remember or think of the past we should think of the wonderful freedoms we enjoy because of those sacrifices," Didsbury High School student union president Greg Schneider told a Remembrance Day service for students.

"Essentially, that's why it's important to remember," Schneider said in addressing DHS and Westglen students who gathered at Westglen Friday. "Those who fought in wars served not for days like this but for love of country and freedom."

It was important to preserve that memory, "so that we don't go to war again. If we do this then we will begin to remember," he said.

The program was introduced by DHS principal Ian Taylor and included addresses by Bill Jepps of the Didsbury Royal Canadian Legion and student Jay Meyer.

Westglen principal Henry

Petkau reminded students that war was not glamorous, that it was a horror. "We should be proud and thankful of those who served and thankful that their efforts have given us a life without violence," he said.

He added that "those who preach peace and then settle differences with their knuckles are hypocrites."

Student Nicole Murphy read the poem, In Flanders Fields.

Other members of the Legion were on hand for the service and members of the Didsbury Army Cadets also participated.

Music was provided by the Grade 8 Westglen band and director Barry Valleau played the Last Post and Reveille.

Earlier in the day, another service was held at Ross Ford Elementary School. Principal Grant Spence showed a slide presentation from a visit to Canadian war memorials and grave sites in Europe.

On Monday, Remembrance Day services were held at the Didsbury Memorial Complex.

Lana Milks A Fridge For All It's Worth And Skims $40 Off The Top.

The fridge Lana Webster bought has a Power Smart symbol. Which means that when it comes to energy efficiency, it's the cream of the crop.

In fact, Lana's new fridge uses 20% less energy than other not-so-efficient alternatives on the market. It will also save Lana about $300 over its lifetime. It seems that just by purchasing her fridge, Lana Webster became Power Smart.

But that's not why she bought it.

You see, Lana knew that she could get a $40 rebate. That was cold cash she could use to fill her new fridge with, well, cold treats.

Ramblers deserve a look

By Peter Crosby

A little better than a decade has passed since the National Hockey League made room for two Alberta teams.

For the most part, the addition of the Calgary Flames and Edmonton Oilers has been positive. Between them, these teams have been among the most successful franchises in the NHL.

They've given new meaning to the word rivalry.

And, their success has helped both cities in a number of ways. Big, new arenas have been built. Jobs have been created. Edmonton and Calgary have gained recognition on the North American hockey map.

However, there has been a negative impact too.

Because of NHL teams in Edmonton and Calgary, hockey in small-town Alberta has declined.

Senior, intermediate and junior teams, all of which used to flourish, have diminished to a handful.

One of the reasons? Once the public had a taste of the major-league brand, nothing less would do.

Instead of going to the local arena to support local pucksters, fans would rather sit in front of the tube in the comfort of their own living rooms watching million-dollar talents cavort. Or make the journey to Calgary or Edmonton to see their heroes perform in person.

The cost of these excursions isn't cheap. Probably about $100 for a couple (if you cut a few corners).

And the result is often disappointment, at least during the regular season where teams often seem only to go through motions.

Because of the NHL, major junior hockey has died in Calgary and Edmonton. In fact, only Medicine Hat and Lethbridge have survived as Alberta entries in the Western Hockey League, with the Red Deer Rebels scheduled to enter the league next season.

These teams are alternatives to the high-priced NHL entertainment but there are others and you don't have to drive to Red Deer, Medicine Hat or Lethbridge.

Right in our own backyard we can find the Olds Grizzlies, one of the top teams in the Alberta Junior Hockey League.

The teams in the AJHL play a fast-skating, hard-hitting kind of hockey at a notch only slightly below the WHL.

And then there's the Chinook Hockey League. This year Didsbury has an entry and I have to tell you that the Ramblers are worth checking out.

For three bucks you'll see more action than you'll ever see on TV or at the Saddledome.

These guys work their tails off. The game against Trochu last week was non-stop action. Both teams sustained an all-out pace for 60 minutes. There was no quitting on either side.

Check out the next Ramblers' home game, Sunday, Nov. 17.

Review goes subscription

The Didsbury Review has been delivered free of any charge to every home in the County of Mountain View for the past 5½ years. The cost of producing the newspaper and delivering it to you through the postal system has been carried totally by advertising income.

Advertisers throughout the county have recognized the effectiveness of combining quality news coverage of events throughout the county with total coverage of the market area and have supported The Didsbury Review in a very significant way.

The realities that all weekly newspapers began to face in 1991 were large increases in postal distribution and production costs compared with only marginal increases in advertising revenue. 1992 will be no different with more postal increases anticipated and further postal regulation changes.

It has become very clear to many weekly newspaper publishers across Canada that advertisers can no longer carry the full burden of providing weekly news coverage to the community free of charge.

The move from a free distribution newspaper to subscription is a growing trend right across the country. Opinion from the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association suggests that there may be no free distribution newspapers remaining in Alberta in as little as five years.

Effective Jan. 1, 1992 The Didsbury Review will be distributed on a subscription basis only and will be available over the newstand from many retail outlets throughout the county.

Our goal has not changed. We want The Didsbury Review to be the most informative news source in the County of Mountain View. Subscription revenue will allow us to continue to deliver that kind of quality news product to your door.

The kind of support we have received from our advertisers and readers alike over the last five years has been exceptional. Thank you for participating in the incredible growth of The Didsbury Review.

We encourage you not to miss a single issue of The Review—subscribe today and continue to enjoy the uninterrupted benefits of knowing what's happening in your community and throughout the county.

A subscription to The Review will cost $14 for six months, $24 for one year, $42 for two years. If you subscribe before Dec. 1st early bird rates make it even more affordable—$12 for six months, $21 for one year, and $39 for two years. (GST included in all prices.)

English Creek project unnecessary, wasteful

Dear Editor:

In your Oct. 29 issue of The Review, there was an article entitled, "English Creek project receives funding."

My husband and I have been concerned about this $220,000 project since its inception. A farmer in the district said he had never seen any flooding and until a year ago, didn't even know where English Creek was located. This project will benefit one farmer but reduces the wetlands. Also the extra water will be diverted to the Dog Pound Creek. This water will erode the banks and be hazardous to the "redds" (gravel beds implanted along the creek bed for fish to spawn into) that are becoming more numerous now that the Dog Pound Creek is being fenced.

Is this project really necessary? In these days of strict fiscal restraint, $200,000 of taxpayers' dollars seems highly unnecessary to us. More community resistance to this type of waste will forestall other projects even if it is too late for this one.

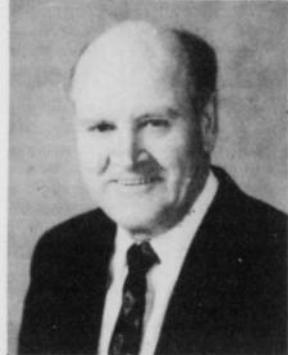

Sincerely,
Alice Van Arnam

Economists forecast higher farm income

Hon. Roy Brassard, MLA
Olds-Didsbury Constituency

The travel and tourism industry is the largest in the world. One person out of every 14 on the globe is employed in this field. The potential economic impacts are integral to future economic development plans.

As such, Tourism Minister Don Sparrow announced the launching of Tourism 2000: A Vision for the Future, as a follow-up to Premier Don Getty's announcement of Toward 2000 Together.

Tourism 2000: A Vision for the Future will consist of industry symposiums in Calgary and Edmonton, and regional meetings in Drumheller, St. Paul, Canmore, Medicine Hat, Red Deer, Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Peace River and Jasper.

The panel will meet with participants from businesses, communities, special interest groups, individual Albertans, non-profit organizations and all parties interested in tourism. The panel will also receive written submissions (until January 31, 1992) in response to a province-wide print ad campaign requesting public input.

The Tourism 2000 initiative will run from September 1991 to June 1992. All input will be taken into consideration and compiled into report format by the members of the Tourism 2000 Advisory Panel. The panel is co-chaired by Brian Evans, MLA for Banff-Cochrane, past-chairman of the Alberta Tourism Education Council; and Joe Couture, President of the Tourism Industry Association of Alberta. Panel members represent a range of expertise and experience and come from across Alberta. Recommendations from the panel will be submitted to the Minister of Tourism.

Your input is important for

From GST to the Constitution

In keeping with the Government's commitment to monitor the operation of the GST in the marketplace a number of technical refinements have been made by Finance Minister Don Mazankowski.

Some of the changes concern livestock feedlots, transitional treatment of new residential properties, shares issued by cooperatives, supplies to international carriers, supplies and services to non-residents, sales by governments, special fundraising events by registered charities, GST housing rebate, transitional credit for small business, etc. Consultations with organizations and private sector groups will contribute to further refinements.

The Standing Committee on Agriculture has initiated a subcommittee that will study the GST and Agriculture Exemptions. They will hold their first meeting on Nov. 20.

The joint Standing Committee on Canadian unity will postpone its visit to Alberta for a while. This is unfortunate as many people in Wild Rose had made arrangements to meet with them. Further information on the resumption of the tour will be released shortly.

ETHICS COMMISSIONER

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF ALBERTA

The Province of Alberta has enacted legislation which requires the establishment of the Office of the Ethics Commissioner.

Canadians who feel qualified to fulfill the role of Ethics Commissioner as described in the Conflicts of Interest Act are encouraged to apply for the position.

The Ethics Commissioner's authority and responsibility under the Act includes: reviewing and discussing with Members the private disclosure statements they are required to file; preparing public disclosure documents; investigating complaints alleging breach of the Act by a Member; providing advice and recommendations to Members regarding their obligations under the Act and promoting the understanding by Members of their obligations under the Act by preparation and dissemination of written information, personal discussions with Members and continuing contact with party caucuses.

The demands of this position require attributes that go beyond a specific discipline or academic achievement. It is desirable that the Ethics Commissioner possess:

- wide experience in dealing with people
- common sense, maturity, tact, patience, perseverance, fairness, integrity, tolerance and sound judgement
- wide respect within their chosen career and in the community at large
- a knowledge of Alberta and its people
- an understanding of the distinction between natural and legal justice
- a general knowledge and appreciation of the workings of a parliamentary system
- a practical knowledge of law and familiarity with investigatory procedures
- a knowledge of financial investments and trusts
- a knowledge of sound administrative and management practice
- a knowledge of Conflicts of Interest legislation and a strong dedication to the Ethics Commissioner role

The Ethics Commissioner will be appointed on a part time basis for a five year term. The Office of the Ethics Commissioner will be established in Edmonton. The successful candidate need not reside in Edmonton, but must be available to meet with Members as necessary. An attractive benefits package including travel allowance will be available. Salary is dependent on qualifications and experience.

Further details on the position may be obtained by calling (403) 427-1350. Resumes must be received by November 29, 1991. Address resumes to:

How communities can help

November Family Violence Prevention Month

November is Family Violence Prevention Month. It is a time for all of us in this community to become more aware of the needs of our children and how, as a community we can help parents to meet them.

A family is responsible for the care and supervision of its children. Ideally a family will be able to fulfil its responsibilities to nurture and care for its children until they are old enough and mature enough to go out on their own. As we are all well aware, this does not always occur. Families today are faced with many stresses and less support than ever before.

I work in the field of child protection and I see many tragedies. I often wonder if these crisis situations could have been avoided and how this may have occurred. Many people have seen these families struggling; perhaps even talked with their neighbours and friends about how horrible it is for the children. But, that is often as far as we go. We don't report it or, we do and then complain that nothing is being done by those agencies serving the community. The agencies however are limited in how and when they can intervene. For myself in Child Protection, our legislation dictates that we intervene when it is often too late for preventative work. Other agencies can accept only self-referrals. On a good note, it is very encouraging to me that the majority of our referrals come from parents who are having difficulty coping. They are asking for help before a tragedy occurs. These people are then referred to overloaded community agencies and often have to wait some time before being seen.

What can we do, as friends and neighbours, to help these so "caught up" in our own lives—a time which we have to watch out for all the neighbourhood children but for their families as well? Do you remember a time when we saw a family struggling and we personally reached out with a helping hand? Do you remember seeing a mother overstressed and offered to take her children for the night to give her respite? Do you remember seeing a family having financial trouble and getting together with the other neighbours to put together a food basket?

Talking about how horrible a family is treating their children and calling the child welfare authorities is not enough. We could do so much more by reaching out and showing them that we care—by helping them access the help they need or by providing that help ourselves. We must take off our blinders, stop turning away and we must reach out our hands to help our children. They are our future and our responsibility. Let's work together as a community and a neighbourhood to look after our children.

Above all, it is important to remember that one person can make a difference—and that person could be you.

Crime prevention poster, essay contest

This is Crime Prevention Week (Nov. 3 to 9) and the Didsbury & District Rural Crime Watch Association is again sponsoring its annual essay and poster contest.

The contest is open to all students, Grades 1 to 12, within the boundaries of the association.

During Crime Prevention Week, Cst. Ted McCreary of the Didsbury RCMP will be available to visit schools to acquaint students with rural crime prevention programs.

The essay and poster contests offer cash prizes for first, second and third in every category. The prizes are $50, $35 and $25.

All first prize winners will be entered in the provincial competition with a chance to win up to $125. Entries must be in the Didsbury RCMP office by Nov. 30.

In closing, we offer a partial listing of local agencies whose services address family violence issues.

Didsbury horse among provincial winners

A local horse was a winner at a recent annual provincial program to identify and recognize superior horses, breeders and trainers in Alberta.

Quite A Classic, a 4-year-old gelding, owned by Louise Milford of Didsbury, received first place honors, in the American Saddlebred, 3-5 year old performance class at the 1991 Alberta Horse Improvement Program.

One of the program's overall goals is improving the quality of Alberta bred horses through education and identification of superior horses, breeders and trainers. Alberta born and Alberta owned rules are in effect in the classes.

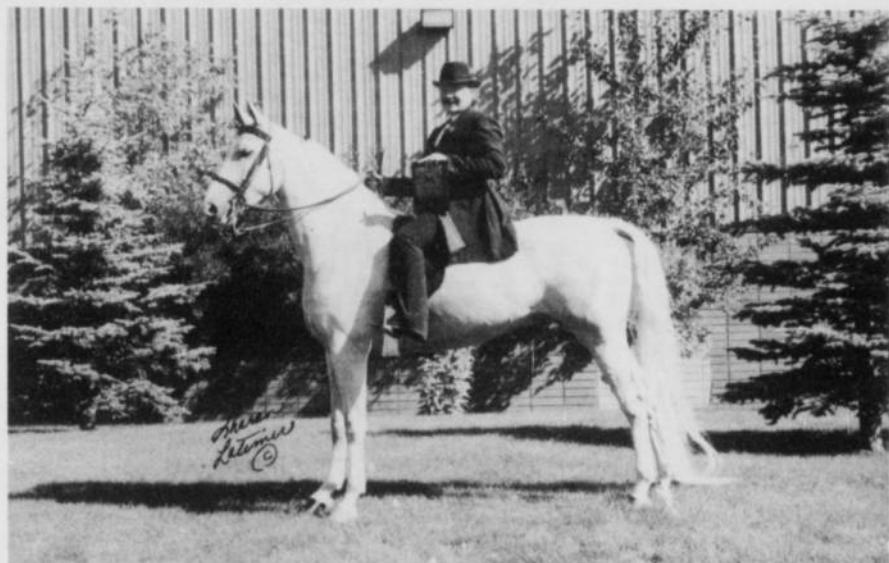

Unlike a typical horse show class, Quite A Classic was judged against breed standards rather than against other horses in the class. Each horse is judged on conformation as it relates to function, with a major emphasis on athletic ability of the horse. This system allows for independent evaluation that is different and more complete than show ring judging.

Bob Coleman, an Alberta Agriculture provincial horse specialist, says owners appreciate the unique evaluation offered through HIP. "Owners and breeders can see individual category scores and see what the judges saw as strong points about their horse. Strong and weak points can be addressed in breeding programs, so evaluations are given back to be used as an education tool."

Two horse show judges and an equine veterinarian score each horse on conformation and performance. Conformation includes five categories: front limbs; hind limbs; head, neck, body and balance; movement; and type. Performance patterns test the athletic ability, temperament and training potential of the young horses. Judges were from Alberta, British Columbia, California and Colorado. Score sheet appraisals are mailed to the entrants.

Alberta Agriculture's horse industry branch, in cooperation with a committee from participating breed associations, has been running the program for the last 17 years. Ten breeds were featured in the 1991 program.

Westglen news

Welcome to another great year at Westglen School. First, we'd like to welcome all the Grade Five students and the new students to our school. I'm sure you'll all enjoy it here!

Student Council

We have elected our student council this year. The president is Nicole Murphy, publicity chairman, Amy Dykstra, secretary treasurer, Raina Peterman and the two activity representatives are Kari Paul and Kristi Luft. The room representatives from each classroom are, 5's - Courtney Murphy, Stacy Paul, Carolyn Vogel, 6's - Nikki Sanftleben, Mike Leonard, Amanda Brown, 7's - Stacey Hughs, Shelia Taylor, Tyson Johnson, 8's - Ricky Kohut, Tina Wackett and Jolene Papke.

This year is going to be very busy. Already we have had a hat day on Sept. 27 which went very well. Nerd day was on Oct. 16th and many people took part. Melissa McRae, Raina Peterman and Scott Aansen were our grand prize winners. Our Halloween dance was Fri., Oct. 25. That was very successful and we had a wonderful turnout.

We have also planned a wave pool trip for Nov. 22. The buses will leave Ross Ford at 3:30 and we will be home by approximately at 9 p.m. On the way home we will stop at McDonalds. The total cost, not including supper, is $5.00.

Grade 5 & School Patrol

The Grade Fives have been busy with many activities. A fundraiser has been held to help raise money for Grade 5 camp and for school patrol activities. This was very successful and we'd like to thank all the people who supported it. The patrols went on a horseback riding trip to Heritage Ranch in Red Deer. Also the Grade 5 band has just played their first note in band. We're sure it was wonderful.

Odds & Ends

Snow fun

Cole Dingman launches a snowball during a day of snow fun in Didsbury.

Ross Ford report

Thanks to all of you who donated to UNICEF on Halloween. Although it was very cold, we did collect $758.97.

On Thursday, Nov. 14 we will hold our first Parents in Touch meeting at 7:15 p.m. A video on math will be shown and parents will get an opportunity to do some of the math activities we are currently making. We will also make plans for future meetings. All parents are encouraged to attend.

DHS Grade 9 honor roll

Report cards for Grade 9 students were recently issued at the Didsbury High School. The following students are to be congratulated for their excellent achievement: Arlene Olson, Charles Silbernagel, Nicki Stogrin, Katherine Dunlop, Andrew Benton, Tony Charron, Jodi Miller, Darlene Papke, Erin Hawkins and Tara Baergen.

Massage Therapist

Dr. Brodeur would like to welcome Joyce Shields as Massage Therapist, to his Chiropractic office, effective Dec. 2, 1991. Joyce is a Certified Massage Therapist, qualified in:

- Acupressure

Shell recruiting process lengthened

By Peter Crosby

Due to the number of qualified applicants for work in the Caroline gas field development, Shell Canada has lengthened its recruiting schedule.

Terry Gibson, Shell's community affairs officer, said applicants are being evaluated based upon their experience, qualifications and written assessment but "due to the number of qualified individuals the selection process will take longer than originally anticipated and communicated."

Applicants have been contacted to inform them that the recruiting schedule has been lengthened, Mr. Gibson said.

"By year end, they will be notified as to the status of their candidacy."

There have been more than 2,500 applications for the 70 to 75 remaining people needed to work at the Caroline Complex. Of these, 1,150 people (900 local and 250 Shell), were invited to participate in written assessments during a week in mid-October.

The next phase in the recruiting process will include interviews and team exercises, said Mr. Gibson. These will be held in January and February. All applicants will be contacted in March with selected candidates being offered employment with Shell.

Mr. Gibson said there would be a combination of people from the local area and existing Shell locations to provide the necessary balance of skills and knowledge required to operate the facility.

The Shantz sulphur forming facility at Harmattan, requiring about 20 people, will be managed by a third party contractor and Shell will work with the manager to ensure fulfillment of local opportunity commitments, Mr. Gibson said.

School renovations on schedule

By Peter Crosby

The first phase of upgrading for the Cremona School is on schedule, assistant superintendent Shirley Van Eaton told last week's board of education meeting.

This first stage, scheduled to be carried out in 1993, will include the building of a new gym, an extended physical education room, library and storage areas.

"What we need now are some detailed drawings," Mrs.

Van Eaton told the board. "We'll be working with local trustees. Local people are excited about fundraising."

The old gym and library will be renovated into new classroom space.

The second and third phases of modernization have been scheduled for 1994 and 1995. Two new classrooms, a new mechanical room and student gathering area are to be added in 1994.

Plans for 1995 call for the modernization of the two original wings of the school.

The first two phases have been approved in principle by the buildings branch of Alberta Education. "We have the green light to proceed," said Mrs. Van Eaton.

Upgrading of the school is part of the long-range plan but is also in response to the demands of a growing student population at the school, she said.

The monkey's viewpoint

Three monkeys sat in a coconut tree
Discussing things as they're said to be,
Said one to the others, "Now listen you two
There's a certain rumour that can't be true.
That man descends from our noble race
The very thought is a sad disgrace."
"No monkey ever deserted his wife
Starved her babies and ruined her life.

And you've never known a mother monk
To leave her babies with others to bunk.
Or to pass them on from one to another
Till they scarcely know who is their mother."
"And another thing you'll never see—
A monk build a fence 'round a coconut tree
And let the coconuts go to waste,
Forbidding all other monks to taste.

Why, if I put a fence around this tree,
Starvation would force you to steal from me."
"Here's another thing a monk won't do—
Go out at night and get on a stew.
Or use a gun or club or knife:
To take some other monkey's life:
Yes, man descended, the ornery cuss—
But Brother, he didn't descend from us!"

Dangerous school crossing to be addressed

By Peter Crosby

There was some debate over responsibility but in the end the County of Mountain View Board of Education last week agreed to support a proposed adult patrol at a hazardous Carstairs crossing.

The board unanimously agreed with a proposal from the safety committee of the Parents Advisory Council of Hugh Sutherland School, as presented by Trustee Susan Denischuk, to match the amount the town of Carstairs is prepared to pay for the service, up to $3,000 annually.

Students walking to school, located east of town, must cross railway tracks and then Hwy. 2A.

Mrs. Denischuk told the board it had been the long-range plan of the safety committee "to deal with this horrendous crossing. We're lucky no one has been hurt yet."

She said it was the committee's feeling that two adult crossing guards are needed for the crossing which is currently patrolled by a student safety patrol in the afternoons.

"We need someone out there in the mornings and the afternoons," said Mrs. Denischuk. "There are hordes of kids there in the mornings."

While the town hasn't formally agreed to funding an adult patrol, Mrs. Denischuk said town council has indicated it would pay up to $5 an hour but is "looking for as much commitment as possible from the board of education."

County Commissioner Herman Epp pointed out the highway crossing is beyond the limits of the school property.

Trustee Edward Oke said that because the crossing "isn't on our property doesn't mean we don't care about kids." But he called on the town to make the first commitment of funds. Mrs. Denischuk said that could delay the proposal another month or two.

Trustee John Grimstead said he didn't like to see the board debating responsibility. "We've got the safety of a whole lot of students at stake."

Trustee Hugh Robinson said the crossing was "too dangerous" to be left in the hands of the school safety patrol.

Acting Superintendent Gordon Rancier said commendations should go to those responsible "for the reasonable approach" taken to the problem.

He suggested that in the future, steps may have to be taken to re-route Hwy. 2A and Secondary Hwy. 581 "to get rid of the growing heavy truck traffic," in the area.

Alberta Transportation has plans to widen Hwy. 2A but the latest word from the department is that this step "could be years in the future," said Mrs. Denischuk.

La Leche League news

Working and Breastfeeding

Can mothers who return to work still breastfeed their babies? Based on a recent survey of 567 employed nursing mothers, the answer is a resounding "yes."

The survey, done by Kathleen Auerbach, a sociologist, lactation consultant, and La Leche League Leader, asked working mothers about problems they encountered with breastfeeding as well as whether or not they would do it again. Despite some obstacles, the survey respondents said overwhelmingly that it is possible to breastfeed while working outside the home. Many noted that they would breastfeed again regardless of their employment status.

Most of the problems the women encountered were similar to those shared by mothers who were home with their babies full-time. Fatigue headed the list, followed by problems with finding time to express milk and worry about milk supply. Dr. Auerbach noted that many of these problems could be prevented if a mother is well informed about breastfeeding.

Support for employed mothers is growing, though many of the survey respondents reported negative reactions from co-workers and their own parents and in-laws.

La Leche League meetings are one possible source of both information and support for working breastfeeding mothers, according to Gwen Day and Luana Smith, leaders of the Carstairs La Leche League Group. Mothers at Group meetings share breastfeeding information as well as ways of coping with the demands of motherhood. Meeting other breastfeeding mothers boosts women's confidence in their ability to nurse their babies. All mothers—expectant ones, too!—are welcome at

Group meetings

The Carstairs La Leche League Group meets monthly. The next meeting is at 10:30 a.m. on Thursday, October 10 at the ECS Portable (next to pool), 21 Ave. & 21 St., Didsbury. For more information or for answers to questions about breastfeeding or car pooling call Gwen Day, 337-2490 or Luana Smith, 335-2331.

Computers on Wheels delivering to rural area

Living in our province's rural areas has its advantages . . . especially for those interested in learning how to operate their farm or agricultural business with computers.

Starting this month, and continuing through to March, Olds College and Alberta Agriculture will again be offering a series of C.O.W. (Computers on Wheels) programs.

Throughout the area, Computers on Wheels (C.O.W.) vans will visit District Agricultural Offices offering two-day introductory courses tailored specifically for agricultural operations. Some of the courses offered through C.O.W. include:

- Introduction to Computers for Farm Use;
- Introduction to Computerized Financial Records;
- Introduction to Spreadsheets and Databases for Farm Use;
- Computerized Farm Financial Planning Worksheets.

Olds College Ag Business Project Manager, Linda Parker, believes the six-year-old program relates technical information in a more personal, easy to understand format than most other computer courses. "C.O.W. shows even those with no previous computer background easy, non threatening ways of working computer skills into their everyday lives without the hassle of having to travel to a major learning centre to become familiarized with the equipment."

Olds teacher wins McLuhan award

...It is only by using all the abilities of each and every person that we can solve our economic and social problems.' —Peter Wilkinson

By Peter Crosby

Receiving one of 12 Marshall McLuhan awards for teaching excellence is one of the high points of Peter Wilkinson's career at Olds High School, the recipient of this national honor told the board of education last week.

In a candid address to the board, Mr. Wilkinson offered his views on a wide range of topics, most of them centred around how to make the world a better place.

Mr. Wilkinson, who teaches career management and technology, related his ups and downs at OHS, from his tenure as principal, 1979-82, to the present.

He resigned as principal after the so-called Sage report changed the style of management from an "imposed top-down" system to one called Japanese management where decision could be made "from the bottom and transmitted upwards for acceptance." This suggestion "was definitely not part of the administrative practices I had been used to either in the Royal Navy or at university. Senior administrators were expected to control staff. My subsequent resignation reflected the fact that I was completely out of my depth in this situation."

It took a number of years to recover from the animosities created by that event, he said. "But eventually I forgot about it as I concentrated on doing the best possible job I could in teaching."

And he credited former OHS principal Tom Craven with helping him to re-evaluate his thinking of Japanese management. Mr. Craven had made a study of this new administrative system and in the process made a critical change in his thinking about people, Mr. Wilkinson said.

"His new and somewhat strange basic premise was that people will always do the best possible job if they are empowered to do so. Instead of top-down direction by decree the revolutionary idea is that you allow people to direct themselves toward the goals of the organization and so improve their productivity as they become owners of the decisions made. It has now been widely demonstrated in progressive modern industrial situations internationally that this empowerment produces the very best out of staffs in all situations."

...It is only by using all the abilities of each and every person that we can solve our economic and social problems.' —Peter Wilkinson

Receiving one of 12 Marshall McLuhan awards for teaching excellence is one of the high points of Peter Wilkinson's career at Olds High School, the recipient of this national honor told the board of education last week.

In a candid address to the board, Mr. Wilkinson offered his views on a wide range of topics, most of them centred around how to make the world a better place.

Mr. Wilkinson, who teaches career management and technology, related his ups and downs at OHS, from his tenure as principal, 1979-82, to the present.

This concept is now the most widely acclaimed trend in management and is considered the only way Canada and the United States can continue to exist as independent countries with a good standard of living. These countries have the advantage of a highly educated labor force. "Unfortunately the predominant current practice is that the worker leaves his brains at the plant gate because his superiors are going to make all the decisions once he is inside. In fact it is obvious that it is only by using all the abilities of each and every person that we can solve our economic and social problems," he said.

"I believe that the problems we are all aware of in education can be successfully solved in the same way. We have a highly educated teaching force who routinely use only 25 per cent of their knowledge and ability simply because they have no power to change things and 'policy' from top down controls all they do."

Necessary changes should be made despite the poor shape of today's economy. "It simply doesn't cost any more to get everyone to become more productive and innovative than it does to use them as simply 'labor' or 'personnel,'" he told the board.

The crucial first step is to change thinking about people both as employers and employees. "After years of adversarial bargaining and negative statements between teachers, the public and people in power only really courageous and dedicated educators and public officials can swallow their long held attitudes and start the process by taking that initial first step."

"Every time someone makes a disparaging remark about teachers we move further away from getting their full cooperation in the educational process."

"One simply cannot live hearing remarks about '9 until 3:30 and three months holiday' or 'those who cannot do teach' without building resentments and protective walls about yourself."

The 25th presentation took place at the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology in Calgary, Oct. 18.

A story on other area winners was carried in the Nov. 5 issue of The Review.

Mantai award winner

There was another local winner at the Alberta Construction Association awards board presentations held recently.

Doug Mantai, a third-year electrical apprentice, received a second-place award for the A Southern Area.

Red Deer offers winter getaways

Plan to visit Red Deer this winter to enjoy some of its special events and recreation activities. Whether you like to participate or prefer to be a spectator, Red Deer's warm hospitality welcomes you. The winter edition of the Visitors Guide will assist in planning a visit to Red Deer, whether for a week-long stay or a short getaway weekend.

Outdoor ice surfaces at Bower Ponds are well-lit and maintained to provide fun for skaters and shinney hockey stars. Try ice-fishing for rainbow trout in the well-stocked ponds, or go cross-country skiing. Afterwards, take the chill off in the cozy pavilion, where equipment rentals are also available. Visit nearby Cronquist House for afternoon tea or a cup of hot chocolate or enjoy the exhibits of ethnic arts and crafts.

Canyon Ski Area, Alberta's largest non-mountain ski area, is only 10 kilometres east of Red

RCMP checking

Airdrie RCMP Freeway Patrol will be conducting a Selective Enforcement Program on Highway 2 between Calgary city limits and Olds overpass from Nov. 16 to Nov. 30.

The program will mainly consist of checking motor vehicles for lighting infractions, in particular headlight infractions where only one headlight is alight. A traffic violation notice or a violation ticket will be issued to offenders.

Section III (1) (a) of the Alberta Highway Traffic Act states it is an offence to drive a motor vehicle on a highway with headlamps not properly alight. The specified penalty for this offence is $50.

Deer Canyon offers 11 runs for various skill levels with lighting for night skiing. Each winter this popular ski area also plays host to competitions, including the Alberta Cup Slalom on Feb. 8 and 9.

Venture out on cross-country skis and explore the trails in Waskasoo Park. Groomed trails at River Bend Golf Course and Recreation Area offer an excellent opportunity for cross-country enthusiasts. Afterwards stop in at the clubhouse to warm your toes and enjoy a hot refreshment.

Kerry Wood Nature Centre offers indoor exhibits to satisfy your "natural" curiosity! Snowshoes are available for those who wish to explore the outdoors in a different fashion. The adjacent Gaetz Lakes wildlife sanctuary is open year round. Hay rides at Heritage Ranch are also available throughout the winter season.

During the Family Day long weekend, there are numerous events planned. These include the Family Winter Fest at Heritage Ranch on Feb. 16, the Third Annual Family Fishing Derby at Bower Ponds and special events at Canyon Ski Area and Eastview Community School on Feb. 17.

Christmas Bazaar a sellout

For the third year in a row the Westerner Christmas Bazaar has sold out its tables in October. Due to the rapid growth in the cottage craft industry we are experiencing a growth that no one expected when the bazaar started a short six years ago.

The North Pavilion will play host to the major number of exhibitors but our new facilities in the Parkland Pavilion will be used for the first time. The added space will give customers a new, roomier layout to explore as they fill their Christmas list. The major complaint last year from people was the lack of room. This year we can expand to almost double the space although our table numbers have only increased by about 60. We hope the winners will be those who come to shop and enjoy the many different displays that will be available.

Ann Dial, an original Christmas bazaar exhibitor, is one of almost 200 exhibitors who are busy preparing their own unique crafts for Dec. 7. Gaggles of geese, cows, pigs and sheep have taken over the Dial household. Ann may be contacted at 343-8404 to see what type of preparation goes into the bazaar from an exhibitor's point of view.

For further information call: Shirley Pearson, Christmas Bazaar coordinator, 343-7800.

Alberta Class events including: Biathlon, Bobsleigh, Cross Country Skiing, Curling, Gymnastics, Hockey, Luge, Ringette, Team Handball and Wrestling with the hopes of qualifying for the 1992 Alberta Winter Games to be held in Fort McMurray later in February.

In conjunction with the sport events Sundre is hosting other festivities including: Highschool One Act Festival, Ice and Snow Sculpture Workshop and Contest, Variety Show, Photo Contest, Art Show and Historical Display and a School Choir and Bellringers presentation.

This event is sponsored by the Alberta Sport Council in conjunction with the Town of Sundre. The Games Hosting Committee hopes to register participants from across the Zone in order to make these Games a smashing success.

Grizzlys cling to second place

By Peter Crosby

Olds Grizzlys came up with a strong effort last Wednesday night to knock off first-place Calgary Royals 5-4 and gain a share of the lead in the Alberta Junior Hockey League standings.

But they slipped to second again after losing 5-2 to Fort McMurray Oil Barons on home ice Friday.

The Grizzlys, with a 13-4-2 record in 19 games, have 28 points, two less than the league-leading Royals and two in front of the surging Calgary Canucks.

They play three of four games this week on the road, starting with a visit to Fort Saskatchewan Traders tonight (Nov. 12).

They'll be at home to the Traders on Thursday night at 7:30 p.m.

Tyler Graham scored twice to pace the Grizzlys to their win over the Royals. Singles went to Jamie Price, Eric Fulton and Reo Lajeunnese. Larry Moberg turned in another solid effort in the Grizzly goal.

But on Friday, playing before the biggest crowd of the season on Bike Night, the Grizzlys couldn't match the Oil Barons, one of the best skating teams in the league. "We just weren't as aggressive as we normally are," said Olds GM Bob Clark. "The Oil Barons played as well as any team we've faced this year."

Clark said the team has made a few player moves in the last week.

Shawn Newsome was sent to Williams Lake of the Rocky Mountain Jr. A. League for cash, Steve Street opted for Junior B hockey to get more ice time, Jarrett Safarin will go either to Lloydminster Blazers or Junior B and Joey Dvorak is going back to Olds Midgets to get more ice time.

Meanwhile, Josh Erdman

who suited up with Olds two years ago, returns from Portland of the Western Hockey League. He can play right wing or defence.

Defenceman Clay Awe has joined the team from Stettler. He suited up with the Red Deer Major Midget team last season.

Ramblers pick up first win

By Peter Crosby

Kevin Kurtz fired the winning goal late in the third period last Thursday as Didsbury Ramblers won a see-saw battle over Trochu, 7-5.

It was the Ramblers' first win in the Chinook Hockey League this season and evened their record at 1-1.

With their defence corps racked with injuries (Kurtz and Brett Durand, knee injuries; Steve Wray, broken nose; Steve Hughes, ankle) the first-year team suffered back-to-back losses Saturday and Sunday, falling 9-5 to Hobbema and 10-3 to Olds.

"We have the best speed in the league but we're on the small side and the other teams are taking advantage of that," said Didsbury manager Larry Tennant. "You've got to give our guys credit though. They're taking a lot of bumping and keep coming back."

Tennant said the Ramblers have stuck with an all-local team. "We know it's going to take while to become a really good hockey team. We just want to stay competitive and hopefully make the playoffs."

In the Trochu game, the score was 1-1 after the first period and Didsbury held a 4-2 lead after the second. Trochu came back to tie matters at 5-5 before Kurtz scored on a giveaway. Jamie Jensen added insurance with an empty net goal.

Ed Krebs, Brent Youngs, Kevin Krebs, Bryan Lattimer and Rob Brown also scored for Didsbury.

More than 260 fans turned out for the Ramblers game with Hobbema Saturday. Cyril Jensen opened the scoring but Hobbema came back with three unanswered markers before the end of the first period.

Other Didsbury marksmen were Ed Krebs, with a pair, Alan Shields and Greg Laveck.

Sunday's game was played in Sundre and Didsbury suffered its second loss of the season at the hands of the Olds Elks.

Lars Olsen fired five goals to pace Olds to victory. Other Olds goals were scored by Didsbury got goals from Jamie Jensen, with two, and Kirk Poitras.

Chris Overwater

Chris, a '6'4'', 235 pound defenceman, is a force to be reckoned with on the Ramblers' blue-line. The 27-year-old is a second period welder apprenticing with Netmeyer Brothers Welding Ltd. in Olds.

Nice save

Didsbury Ramblers goalie Red Wilson held the fort in the third period as the Ramblers won their first game of the season, 7-5 over Trochu Thursday. Next home game for Didsbury is this Sunday, 1:30 against Hobbema.

The Way of Life

Remembrance, healing

Rev. John Orman

St. Cyprian's Anglican Church

Canada is a wonderful mosaic of people from different backgrounds and cultures, and this week following Remembrance Day can sometimes be a painful one as people think back to the reasons that they left their home country. Only about 2% of Canada's population are native to the land although many people can trace generations of ancestors born in Canada. However for 98% of the population either they or their parents or some earlier generation left some other part of the world to build a new life in Canada. In this century in particular many of the groups of immigrants were motivated to leave other places directly or indirectly because of the result of war. Two major ones in Europe and innumerable ones in other parts of the world. Sometimes the political systems left behind were far less flexible than in one of the world's few true democracies.

While this shows how fortunate we are to be in Canada, it is at times like this that we can grieve for the places that we ourselves or our ancestors left behind. There is a saying that "if you keep looking in the rear view mirror while driving that you will hit something else!" For most of the year that is true and healthy but this week we are publicly allowed to think back to the difficulties and sacrifice that occurred in many countries and to realize that memories need to be healed and reconciled to events from years before. For young people reading this article they may say how or when was there anything that we need to look back to?

Perhaps as part of the process of healing it is good to ask grandparents, or people who have escaped from conflict in Europe, Latin America or Asia. While each human being has a unique perspective on their own history many will look back and see the suffering and poverty resulting from conflict. Many will see how people get caught up in political systems where as an individual one feels a pawn in a game of chess. A few will look back to exciting times or times of great comradeship.

The Christian churches have some important things to say about all of this! First they hold out the image and ideal where the world aims to live in peace.

Weatheradio now available locally

Doug Fee, Member of Parliament for Red Deer, on behalf of federal Minister of Environment Jean Charest, announced the introduction of Weatheradio Canada. Current weather information can now be broadcast around-the-clock, directly to homes and offices in the Red Deer area.

"It's like having a personal weather service," commented Mr. Fee. "Weatheradio Canada transmits the most current weather reports as well as short and extended range forecasts 24 hours a day. Severe weather warnings are issued automatically with an electronic signal."

Weatheradio will provide weather warnings instantaneously, giving timely information of forecast or imminent severe weather. Weatheradio will also be particularly useful to those whose livelihood is affected by the weather, such as farmers or construction workers.

The Weatheradio facility is a system which uses solid-state electronic technology to store and disseminate weather information. Special receivers must be purchased to receive local Weatheradio. These receivers are available through communication electronics retailers and are designed to pick up the three frequencies reserved for Weatheradio - 162.400 MHz, 162.475 MHz, and 162.550 MHz.

Weatheradio is broadcast on 162.550 MHz from the Glenayre Communications Inc. tower located east of Red Deer, with the transmission area stretching from Ponoka in the north to Didsbury in the south and from Caroline in the west to near Stettler in the east. Weatheradio broadcasts are prepared by Environment Canada's meteorological personnel at the Calgary weather office.

They do not deny that conflict exists and has done for many years. There are many stories in the Old Testament of battles. Secondly the churches offer hope that when we look ahead to Christmas we can recall how Christ came as Prince of Peace and how the Christian churches try and convey that message.

Thirdly, the churches encourage reconciliation with friends and neighbours. Sometimes those people have been on different sides in a military conflict. Often that means it is a subject that is totally avoided. Perhaps the time has come when the memories need to be converted to discussion and open debate to try and forgive and heal hurts from the past. If a person has suffered from another regime it is incredibly difficult to forgive but in the 1990s as the world comes closer together in terms of travel opportunities, telecommunications and business links then perhaps there is also a need to both remember the past but as far as possible within each human being to heal it as well.

FORECAST:

Wednesday: Sunny. High: +3; Low: 0.
Thursday: Cloudy. High: +2; Low: -7.
Friday: Sunny with clouds. High: +6; Low: -8.

This calls for the old to talk to the young and the other way around. It calls for people of different backgrounds to work at tolerance and love as these too are building blocks for a future Canada that we all want to see. One freed from the past but using it as a foundation for a prosperous and caring future.

There is a French proverb, loosely translated as "To know all, is to understand all." Does that apply within our families and among our neighbours?

We made plans for the Kinsmen Manor Christmas dinner, for Nov. 21st. We always enjoy providing this service for the lively "young" folks there.

Educational topics included a most interesting report from Hazel Milne on a conference she had attended. It dealt with Family Violence and the Physical Abuse of Women. The vicious cycle of abusive treatment is aided and abetted by society's attitude of looking the other way. Abusers are, in fact, criminals of the most cowardly sort.

PERSONALITIES

Didsbury teacher top band director in Alberta

By Peter Crosby

County of Mountain View band director Barry Valleau, who teaches at Westglen School in Didsbury, has received the Alberta Band Association's Elkhorn Award as band director of the year.

"This is the highlight of my life," said Mr. Valleau, whose enthusiasm for the band program has carried over to the student population. Since moving to Didsbury in 1984, Mr. Valleau has seen enrolment in the county's band programs increase from 177 to over 1,100.

The Alberta Band Association said much of this success is directly related to the efforts of Mr. Valleau and his coordination of the band programs in the district.

The Elkhorn Award is given annually by the ABA to a band director in the province who has made significant contributions to band and band music.

Mr. Valleau, born in Saskatchewan, began his career in the Canadian Armed Forces as a band member. He spent three years in the Signal Corps Band in Kingston, Ont. and three years in the Strathcona Band in Calgary.

Following completion of his education degree at the University of Calgary, Mr. Valleau spent 11 years teaching music in the County of Grande Prairie, primarily in Sexsmith.

He moved his family to Didsbury in 1984 and currently teaches band at Westglen School, a middle school for Grades 5 to 8. The total enrolment is 300, with 245 of those students participating in the band program.

The concert bands at the school are frequently recommended to the provincial finals and have been recommended to the national finals three of the last six years.

The Grade 8 band provided outstanding musical support for last week's Remembrance Day service at the school.

And Mr. Valleau's son, Jason, a Grade 12 student at Didsbury High School, was recently chosen to take part in an Alberta Honor Band.

Barry Valleau

Students ask Gogo to take action

Dear Editor:

Today marks a day of great significance for those students enrolled in the many universities, technical institutes, and colleges of Alberta. Today is the day in which students across the province say "enough is enough." I regret that I am unable to attend the rally being held today in Calgary. However, let it be known that I stand in solidarity with my fellow students across the province in opposing the continuous barrage of government cut-backs to post-secondary education.

As a student, I am appalled at the continuous financial cut-backs to education in the Province of Alberta. In failing to adequately fund post-secondary education in the province, the government has knowingly reduced the quality and accessibility of education within Alberta. Our crowded schools stands as a testament to the lack of political will on the part of the Progressive Conservative government of Alberta to support our universities, colleges and technical institutes. This government pays lip service to education yet continues to fund enterprises of a suspect nature. In times of election we repeatedly hear the rhetoric of the "importance of education" to our province; however, the 5 years between elections is witness to the real agenda of the Getty government--further degradation of our post-secondary system.

We call on Minister Gogo to take some form of affirmative action within the next few months. In order to satisfy the students of Alberta, the Minister is going to be forced to address the issues of importance: increased funding to post-secondary institutions, assurance of student accessibility to those post-secondary institutions, increased funding of scholarship and loan programs, and a real commitment to continued support from the government. If the Minister and the Conservative government cannot fulfill their obligations to the students and citizens of Alberta perhaps, an honourable course of action should be sought: that is the resignation of Minister Gogo.

Sincerely,

Sandra Rein
Students' Union President
Augustana Students' Union,
Camrose

Real hope rests with Christ's return

Dear Editor:

Recent elections in B.C. and Saskatchewan show that people are wanting change but unfortunately, in electing another mainstream political party, they only jump from frying pan to fire.

However, it was encouraging to learn that many New Brunswickers finally recognized the futility of supporting any of the old political parties. And so they voted for The Confederation of Regions Party (COR), "that little group of radicals," so despised by The Establishment. COR won eight seats in the recent election in New Brunswick and in fact came close to forming the government, running a good second in 19 other constituencies.

Hopefully, other Canadians will wake up too and vote for COR which has policies so sorely needed to pull this country back from debt and destruction. As well as policies to restore financial and economic sanity, COR's policies include referendum, recall, initiative, free votes in the Legislature (or Parliament) and fixed terms for government, which would put control back into the hands of the people where it belongs in any democracy worthy of the name.

The case where a group of Albertans took their MP, Willie Littlechild, to court, for his failure to represent them in voting for the GST, proved that democracy is dead in Canada. The federal government has legislation which frees MPs from the obligation to heed the wishes of constituents—the constituents who pay for their lavish salaries, pensions, etc. In other words, ordinary Canadians must pay the piper but they cannot call the tune.

PM Mulroney was recently advocating help for Russia and the nations of eastern Europe that are in shambles from long years of oppressive and inept Communist government. This suggestion from our Canadian leader whose government has consistently followed the same destructive course as the Trudeau regime, resulting in impossible debt and economic and social disaster here also. The blind leading the blind. In fact, Russia's debt of $70 billion is nothing compared to our federal debt of over $400 billion. In some other ways too, the Canadian scene is even worse because of the policies of bilingualism, multiculturalism, metric and immigration which have caused such division, confusion and trouble among the people.

It appears that Canadians have been targeted as a people who will put up with any kind of abuse and pay for it too. Unfortunately, provincial governments seem helpless or unwilling to stop it. Alberta, in particular, has been bullied and impoverished by the federal government, and the international powers who give the orders. The figures are astonishing and readily available.

However, most of us are still well fed, clothed and housed, thanks to the God-given bounty of this country and the productivity of what is left of our free enterprise system. But, it is still true that the price of liberty and prosperity is eternal vigilance and because we, as a people, have been apathetic, we are now seeing rapid changes which could deprive us of our creature comforts and our liberty. Government policies which are destroying this country with debt and division, the laying off of thousands in the work force, the rapid decline of the farm population and the general malaise in society, all bode ill for the future.

We realize that the final solution and our real hope rests with the return of our Lord, Jesus Christ, and the establishment of His kingdom. Read the beautiful passages in Isaiah 9:6,7 and Revelation 21:1-4. The government of God will involve the cooperation of people who truly love, trust and obey Him and care about each other. By all the signs, His coming may not be far away and our top priority should be readiness for that day.

But let us also use our God-given brains and abilities to do the best we can for our country. The next time a smooth talking politician wants your vote, find out what his party's policies really are and from whom they take their orders.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Robert H. Ross

Dear United Grain Growers: Thank you for donating the trophy for the Steer Challenge Award.

Since this past year is probably my last year in 4-H, winning this award was a good way to end.

Thank you again for your support of the West Didsbury 4-H Club. Sincerely, Tara Israelson 30-1tp

Our many thanks to all who braved the inclement weather to attend our Open House and 50th Anniversary celebration on Oct. 26th. Thank you for all the good wishes and many gifts we received. Our thanks also to our family who organized it and to all those who took part. It was all greatly appreciated. Orville & Hazel McMann 30-1tp

St. Jude, thank you for your intercessions in a time of need.

Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near Kinsmen of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need. To you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg, to whom God has given such great power, to come to my present urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked.

St. Jude, pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen. Kevin 30-1tp

In Memoriam

DAVID HANSEN

The saddest day of our lives was when our precious son, brother and husband was taken one year ago today, Nov. 12 (1990).

"The ones we love don't go away,
They walk beside us everyday,
Silent tears often flow,
Since you were taken a year ago,
Taken from us without goodbye,
We hope someday to understand why."

Lovingly remembered, Mom, Dad, Charlene, Brian & Susan 30-1tp

Getty announces first step

Premier Getty last Thursday announced the beginning of a series of government actions in response to current economic conditions. The actions will take place over the next weeks and months and are designed to help maintain Alberta's position as a strong, progressive, vibrant economy leading the nation, the premier said.

"Over the past few months I have been meeting with Albertans," said the premier. "I met with urban municipalities in September, farmers and Calgary business leaders in October, and more than 500 delegates at a industry."

"In coming weeks we'll be detailing our plans for dealing with many of the challenges we have before us . . . such as agriculture, budget measures, provincial municipal financing and the constitution. I'm looking forward to working with Albertans to keep this province strong and healthy," the premier concluded.

and fall-winter programs will hopefully be handed out at the next meeting.

The next meeting will be Nov. 11th at 7:30 at the Mountain View Hall. Good luck to all members this year, 1991-92!!

Rosebud 4-H sheep news

Submitted by Sandra Pratt

On our first Sheep 4-H meeting on Sept. 30th at the Rosebud Hall we had our elections. The elected people were Bobbi Jackson for president, Greg Rosenke for vice president, Marcia Rosenke for secretary, Jocelyn Pearson for treasurer, Sandra Pratt for club reporter, Brad Jackson for historian, and Laureen Hall and Alicia Rosenke for district rep. Our club leader is Mrs. Hall.

Some of the activities planned for this year are Highway Cleanup, Skiing, 4-H on parade, curling and the go-cart gardens.
